How to choose a business degree

How do I choose a business degree? You will need to work out if:

- a) You would like to study a comprehensive or a specialist degree, and
- b) You would like to study a single or a double degree.

The following has been pasted directly from the Monash University website and is a great example of how you can view business courses at all universities.

For students who want range and flexibility

Comprehensive degrees

Our comprehensive degrees are designed to offer choice and flexibility across a broad range of majors. This gives you the option to 'try' different areas of study in your first year, before focusing on a particular area of study you move through your course.

Bachelor of Commerce

Bachelor of Business

Which comprehensive degree is right for me?

Each course has its own distinct perspective and focus, and offers different majors and double degree options. Which course you choose comes down to your individual interests and career goals.

For students who want to specialise from the beginning
