CLASS OF 2018 CAREER PATHWAYS - 2018 AND 2019

Developed by Sandie McKoy, Careers Department,
Catholic College Wodonga. Published February 2019

Introduction

This booklet outlines the pathways our 2018 graduates are planning to undertake this year and in 2020. Our graduates engage in a variety of pathways post school. They undertake career planning during their senior years and aim to transition into pathways that suit their strengths, values, personality type and interests.

When it comes to university studies, the majority of students pursued an allied health pathway, followed closely by business and law/justice. Allied health has been the most popular study pathway for Catholic College university applicants every year for the past 11 years except in 2017.

Where students were unsure about pursuing tertiary study, they tended to plan a vocational pathway, especially in their gap year, rather than go straight to university. 40/93 (43%) students elected to defer their university studies for 12-months, to save money, travel, complete a vocational education qualification, gain industry experience, have a break from study and to take more time to decide on a suitable university course.

The 2018 group will be contacted in March 2019 and will be contacted again in September for a pathways update. As in previous years, it is expected that for many students, what they plan to do in 2019 and 2020 will change for a variety of reasons. Dissatisfaction with their university/TAFE course, physical/mental health concerns, family commitments, lack of work available in their apprenticeship, financial constraints, and change of career direction can all impact pathways.

All students will receive ongoing support from the Careers Department over the next several years to assist them to navigate the often complex careers landscape experienced during late adolescence and early adulthood. Catholic College Wodonga wishes the 2018 group success and happiness in their pathways and career development.
